DAY 2 - TUESDAY, MAY 31, 2022

TIME

ACTIVITY

0900 - 1030

An Overview of Sexual Exploitation and the Modern-Day Predator

This session will address the tactics that the modern-day predator, an exploiter, uses to groom their victims, focusing on peer grooming and online grooming. It will be addressed that prevention and safety of children and youth will rely on their knowledge in identifying signs of grooming vs a focus on identifying an exploiter by their looks.

According to the Counter Exploitation Unit in Vancouver, 95% of grooming into sexual exploitation begins online. Half of this session will focus on tactics relating to online grooming beginning with an introduction activity that will engage participants in matching popular app logo's amongst youth to the app's description and its risks. A follow up discussion will be had incorporating the tips from the Integrated Child Exploitation unit as well as tips gained through experience working front-line with youth victims regarding online safety. Although each app has its own unique functions, there are commonalities amongst all apps that service providers and front-line workers can look out for, including an apps ability to transfer platforms, the ability to share photos, and the ability to remain anonymous.

This discussion will be supplemented by stories that will exemplify the information shared. The remaining half of the workshop will discuss how more than 50% of in person grooming involves females grooming females and the tools and tips for working with youth that can help them identify a female groomer. The session will end with a summary of tips and tools that service providers and frontline workers can take away.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKERS - ALPHABETICAL ORDER

BARBARA DAY

Barbara has been involved with the inner city of Edmonton for a long time. Her interest first sparked when she took a university course on juvenile delinquency and taught inner city kids at the Bissel Centre. Her family upbringing saw her involved in not-for-profit and charity work from a young age and the inculcated habit has now evolved into a passion to make a difference in anyway possible. For fun, she dances, sails and cooks and for work she expresses her art in designing and building exhibits and sets. She loves theatre, sports, her dogs and tigers.

DEBORAH KINISKY

Deborah Kinisky is the Executive Director of Blue Sky Thrivalist Services. She is an entrepreneur who joyfully wears many hats that all accessorize each other beautifully in order to offer you natural life altering improvements and clarity of your purpose.

She has worked for the last 7 years as a certified mental health practitioner who offered one-on-one, personalized self-love guidance to those who wanted to thrive in life instead of survive because as you will learn, if she can thrive in life, then so can you. She gave up this role in 2020 to pursue her passion for photography.

She is a gifted photographer, accomplished author and seasoned motivational speaker who should have been a statistic of abuse, trauma and addiction, but instead rose above adversity after learning how to finally love herself at the age of 39.

Deborah is an adored wife, blessed mom, cherished friend, animal lover, advocate and volunteer who happily calls Edmonton, Alberta, Canada her home and looks forward to getting to know more about YOU!

Her presentation leads to discussions around scenarios and solutions to empower oneself against sexual exploitation. Juanita presents at many conferences and symposiums related to sexual exploitation too numerous to mention

ALAYA MCIVOR

Alaya McIvor is a 38 year-old Transgender/Two Spirited Indigenous Women from Treaty One Territory of Manitoba. She originates from the Sandy Bay Ojibway First Nation, a Northern community 190 kilometers Northwest on Lake Manitoba shoreline. She currently resides in Winnipeg.

Alaya is a strong Indigenous woman in her determination and lived experience to advocate for Indigenous women, two spirited people, children and exploited persons. She is a survivor of the Canadian child welfare system where she became vulnerable and victim to being sexually exploited and human trafficked throughout Canada. Alaya's strong will supported her survival.

She now uses her story and voice to educate and inform people on these risks and how to make changes. She uses her voice, strength and resiliency to create change.
