WHY THIS WORKSHOP IS IMPORTANT

Social and emotional learning (SEL) and the creation of trauma-sensitive schools provide a foundation for safe and positive learning, and enhances students' ability to succeed in school, careers, and life.

Research shows that SEL and trauma-sensitive practices not only improve achievement by an average of 11 percentile points, but it also increases prosocial behaviors (such as kindness, sharing, and empathy), improves student attitudes toward school, and reduces depression and stress among students. Effective social and emotional learning programming involves coordinated classroom, schoolwide, family, and community practices that help students develop the following skills: self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, relationship skills and responsible decision-making.

This two-day workshop offers participants an engaging and interactive approach to incorporating social-emotional learning and trauma-informed practices into the lives of children and youth as well as into their own lives as adults and educators.
